No Objec	ction to Declassification in Part 2010/08/05 : LOC-HAK-542-18-7-3	•
		25
		· · ·
		•
		·
		*,
	CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY 10 October 1973
& State Dept review	INTELLIGENCE MEMORANDUM	•
pleted.	MIDDLE EAST 20302	₹.
ORI C03326463	(Situation Report Number 20)
	As of 1630 EDT
, •	MILITARY SITUATION
•	GENERAL
	1. The situation on the ground appears to be stabilizing on both fronts today with no significal advances made by either the Israelis or Arabs. Is ground forces, supported by a large number of airs controlled most of the Golan Height's today and are ported to have entered and cleared Qunaytirah. The also made some shallow penetrations across the ceafire line by noon, Tel Aviv time. Egyptian ground forces are holding the east bank of the canal to a depth of six to ten kilometers and continue to rebuild the bridges and add reinforcements. The Israeli again with heavy air support, say they are contain the Egyptians; they turned back an armored force driving south into the Sinai from Suez city earlies today. 2. The Syrians launched unsuccessful air attagainst Israeli positions in the heights this after noon, losing 19 aircraft. Egyptian air activity remained light. Israeli air attacks continue to be heaviest in the Golan Heights, but a large number sortics also were directed against the Egyptian for sortics and sortics are sorticed against the Egyptian for sortics also were directed against the Egyptian for sortics also were directed against the Egyptian for sortics are sorticed against the Egyptian for sortics and sorticed against the Egyptian for sorticed against the E	nt raeli trike re- ey se- uild s, ing ack r- e
-	•
	· · ·	25)

No Objection to Declassification in Part 2010/08/05 : LOC-HAK-542-18-7-3

- 1	ł										1
١	10	Objection	to	Declassificat	ion in F	Part 20	10/08/05:	LOC-HA	4K-542-	18-	7-	3

on the west bank. Tel Aviv confirmed that Damascus International airport was attacked about noon, Tel Aviv time.

SYRIAN FRONT

25X1

- 4. A neutral observer reported at noon that the most significant change since early morning on the Golan Heights was that the Israelis appeared to have entered Qunaytirah and were clearing it. Prime Minister Meir, in a televised broadcast, late today, declared that all of the Golan Heights are completely in Israeli hands and that Syrian troops are in flight.
- 5. The level of fighting in Syria was high both in the air and on the ground. The Syrians claim to have shot down at least 25 Israeli aircraft over the Golan Heights, Latakia, Tartous, and Damascus. At the same time Tol Aviv says 19 Syrian aircraft have been downed. Israeli planes flew about 320 sorties on 10 October, mainly over the Golan Heights.

EGYPTIAN FRONT

6. Fighting continues along the canal, but with little evidence of significant progress by either side. Tel Aviv claims that the Egyptian forces are being held in check all along the canal and that Egyptian penetrations into Sinaí are of a depth of only ten kilometers.

•
7	•

Both sides indicate that the Egyptians are successfully maintaining some bridges scross the canal, despite intensive Israeli air attacks, but the size of the Egyptian reinforcements effort is not known.

7. According to Tel Aviv, an Egyptian armored unit attempted to break out of the bridgehead today, but was forced back. The attacking force struck south from the city of Suez along the Sinai coast.

25X1

8.

Personnel

The Egyptians probably are keeping their aircraft in hardened shelters to protect them from Israeli strikes. Cairo's objective may be to hold its air force in reserve until Israel's air arm is weakened by SAM and antiaircraft fire.

9. ESTIMATED LOSSES

		Israel	Arabs
Aircr	aft	105-110	160-165
Tanks	es.	550*	800
Ships	(primarily patrol craft)	45E 6	9-10
			•

*Israeli report--includes tanks out of service that cannot be repaired within a week.

1,200

3

10,000-14,000

25X1 ...

NOTE: Teraeli aircraft losses are fairly firm and are based on Israeli admissions. The Arab aircraft losses are based on reported shoot-downs and possible losses as a result of Israeli air strikes on Egyptian and Syrian airfields, as derived from both Israeli claims and Egyptian admissions. The Syrians have made no statements about the number of aircraft lost during the war. It is not possible to ascertain the types of aircraft lost.

The tank figures are estimates based on field 25X1 reporting. Personnel losses are extremely rough estimates of men killed and captured. While these estimates of losses have not been confirmed, they are consistent with the forces committed to battle and the intensity of fighting on the various fronts.

SOVIET NAVAL ACTIVITY

25X1

The cruiser and one of the two destroyers that entered the Mediterranean from the Black Sea this morning are scheduled to visit the Italian ports of Taranto (15-18 October) and Messina (19-22 October). There is no indication as yet that the visits have been called off.

LIBYA

25X1 14. According to press reports, Libya has calimed "full sovereignty" over the Gulf of Sirte as a result of the current hostilities. Tripoli warned that no ship would be permitted to enter the large body of water along the central coastline without special permission. Tripoli is no doubt reacting to reports of the movements of the US Sixth Fleet and to recent articles in the US press suggesting an American take-over of Libyan oilfields. Most of Libya's important oil terminals are located at the port of Sirts.

5

OIL

- The Arab-Israeli war has not yet resulted in politically-motivated oil cutbacks, but it is already affecting exports from the area. The closure of the oil terminal at Baniyas, Syria and a 50-percent reduction in the Arabian-American Oil Company's Tapline have reduced the flow of oil to Western Europe by about 800,000 barrels per day, equivalent to about five percent of supplies. Additionally, the 350,000 barrels per day from the Trans-Israeli pipeline exported to Western Europe probably will not be available because of Israel's desire to maintain a high level of oil stocks and the reluctance of tankers to enter the area. Alternative supplies from the Persian Gulf states are available, but the current tanker shortage will delay liftings. Italy and other Mediterranean states will be hardest hit by the disruptions.
- 16. For the present, egypt and Syria reportedly are not pressing the producing countries to use thier oil as a weapon. Kuwait's call yesterday for an emergency meeting of Arab oil ministers was probably a pre-emptive move designed to keep control of the situation in the hands of Arab moderates. So far, the Traqi nationalization of Exxon and Mobil has been the only discriminatory move against the US; however, Baghdad has not been pushing its call for a ban on oil exports to the US issued earlier this week.
- 17. If hostilities are prolonged, shutdowns or severe limitations on the Mediterranean pipelines would be felt in the US--perhaps in a matter of several weeks. Should the Arab combatants begin to suffer sharp defeats, pressure on Arab oil producers to use their petroleum muscle in the battle will be intense.

25X1

UNITED NATIONS

18. Although the Security Council members have not yet set a time for their next meeting, it seems likely that the non-aligned states may offer a cease-fire resolution within the next few days. They were eparted preparing a draft yesterday and are apparently trying to time its presentation so as to be most favorable to Arab positions.

VOLUNTEERS FOR ISRAEL

19. Reacting to western press reports that offices to process volunteers to help Israel have been established by pro-Israeli organizations in the Netherlands, Belgium, and Great Britain, the Libyan acting foreign minister called in the representatives of these countries in Tripoli and warned them that Libya would consider such activity a hostile act by their countries against the Arab states. An Iranian Government spokesman, reacting to a news service report that volunteers from Australia might go to Israel via Tehran, warned that his country would not be a way station for such people and that Iran would not issue them entry visas.

25X1

	•
$ yr	No Objection to Declassification in Part 2010/08/05 : LOC-HAK-542-18-7-3	5X1
		• '
	XINDX	·
	Third Country Participation in the Current Middle East Hostilities
	As the fighting rages between Israel and Syria and Egypt, various other Arab states have become involved either actively or through pledges of financial and military assistance. A summary of the assistance provided or promised by these states, as well as that by non-Arab states follows.	1
	Arab Assistance
	Libya
	To date, new Libyan assistance has been limited to pledges to "bankroll" the war. Last spring, Libya sent at least 20 Mirage fighter aircraft to Egypt, which apparently are being flown by Egyptian pilots. Libya has more than 60 additional Mirages in its inventory—although there are not enough Libyan pilots trained to fly them. There are tenuous indications, however, that some of these aircraft may be made available to the Egyptians.
	Morocco
•	At the beginning of the fighting, Morocco had between 2,000 and 3,000 troops, about 60 medium tanks, and some APCs and support equipment stationed in Syria near the Golan Heights. These troops reportedly have already engaged in combat. Morocco has announced that it will send another 2,500 or so troops to the fighting—possibly to the Egyptian front.

Iraq

Since last spring, a squadron of Iraqi Hawker Hunter aircraft-some 16 aircraft--and about 160 Iragi pilots and technicians have been stationed in Egypt. The Iragi aircraft have already engaged in aerial compat with the Israelis. Baghdad also has indicated that it will provide 32 SU-7 fighter bombers and 16 MIG-21s to the battle on the Syrian front.

25X1

	t	£ 25X1
Ω	0	25/1
ا السند

Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algerial apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algerial apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade-perhaps as many as 4.0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade-perhaps as many as 4,0 troops-to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4.0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made available to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4.0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front. Kuwait Kuwait
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front. Kuwait Kuwait Kuwait reportedly has reinforced its 500 man continuin Egypt by another 150 men and eight pilots.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front. Kuwait Kuwait
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front. Kuwait Kuwait
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front. Kuwait Kuwait
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4,0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4,0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4.0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4.0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigadeperhaps as many as 4.0 troopsto Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troop both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some may have already been dispatched to the front.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4.0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made available to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4.0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made available to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4.0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made available to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4.0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lightning interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made available to the Egyptians in an emergency. Tunisia Tunis has announced that it intends to dispatch troops—to both Egypt and Syria. Information suggests that some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade-perhaps as many as 4,0 troops-to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade-perhaps as many as 4,0 troops-to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail to the Egyptians in an emergency.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing interceptors and information obtained earlier this year indicates that 10 of these aircraft are to be made avail.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeria air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. Saudi Arabia State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade—perhaps as many as 4,0 troops—to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft. Egyptian pilots are already trained on Saudi Lighthing Interceptors and information obtained earlier this year
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia intends to send a combat brigade-perhaps as many as 4,0 troops-to Syria. The Saudis also may provide aircraft.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algerial apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat. State Department sources indicate that Saudi Arabia
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algerial in the Algerial air units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algerial apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Algerians have yet engaged in combat.
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeriair units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some air force personnel to Syria. It is not known if any Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeriair units have arrived in Egypt. Last spring, Algeria apparently sent some MTG aircraft and perhaps even some
Reports from Cairo and Algiers indigate that Algeri Vicesia .
M & Alberta A and
25X1

No Objection to Declassification in Part 2010/08/05 : LOC-HAK-542-18-7-3

X1				K-542-18-		•
USSR			,
		. •
•				•	25X1

25X1 A-3